
US LNG serves Europe (declining), Latin America, and a contracted floor to NE Asia (Japan/Korea long-term SPAs). It does not competitively reach the Chinese coal-switching market under present-day economics—delivered US LNG neither undercuts Asian coal nor beats incumbent suppliers (Qatar, Australia, Russia). Freed US gas reaches China only above the leakage threshold.